Chickens From Scratch Celebration Giveaway

Chickens From Scratch Celebration Giveaway

Celebrate the Good Times

I have it all pulled together! I wanted to celebrate reaching a milestone on my social media page and also, and more importantly, celebrate the publishing of my new book!

Chickens From Scratch is now available!

But wait! While I do hope for sales of the book, I want to celebrate first. I am giving away 5 copies of my new book, Chickens From Scratch!

You could be one of the first to read my take on chicken raising. We first began raising chickens almost 10 years ago and never looked back. I knew from the start that chickens would be a part of my life and lifestyle. Not to mention the decor. I may have gone a little bit overboard with the chicken decor in our home. But I am sure you all understand how that can happen!

I am also adding in two second prize winners who will receive a copy of my inspirational photo journal, Timber Creek Farm,

Photographs, Inspirational Quotes, and Rural Scenes.

That is Seven PRIZES!

Good Luck! This will be so easy to enter. I just want to celebrate the good times with you. Of course, I am thrilled if you decide to also visit me on Facebook,

Instagram

Pintererst

and Google +

So if you do hang out on any of those sites, please stop by and take a look. I would love to connect with you there, too.

HOW DO I ENTER?

The easiest way for me to give the books away is to use the Rafflecopter widget. But I promise it won't be difficult and I won't ask you to jump through lots of hoops to enter. If you have trouble with it, please let me know. It is not my goal to frustrate you!

Here are some things to keep in mind. This is the “small print”.

1. Five First Prize winners will be chosen at random, for the first prize. One copy of Chickens From Scratch.

Two second prize winners will be chosen at random for the second prize, a copy of my photo inspirational journal, entitled, Timber Creek Farm.

2. Use an email address that you actually check frequently because you only have 24 hours to respond if I notify you that you won.

3. You will need to respond within 24 hours with a mailing address so I can ship the book to you.

4. If you do not respond within the 24 hours, another winner will be chosen.

5. You must live in the USA or Canada. My readers in other countries, I am sorry but the shipping costs more than the book is worth.

6. You must be over 18 years of age to enter the contest.

So please join the Chickens From Scratch Celebration!

I know that I would not have accomplished this goal with out the support of many family members, friends and loyal readers.

You will also be able to purchase a copy soon by going to our shop!
You can sign up for the newsletter on the sidebar form on this page or by following the link in the rafflecopter. Whichever you choose to use, make sure you add the email address you used to the rafflecopter form so it actually enters you to win!
Now on to the contest!

The Contest has ended and the winners have been emailed – 2/12/15
